

Doctrine on Israel Presented in Chart Format

ON THE LONGEVITY OF ISRAEL

An unlimited number of copies in part or in whole may be made for free for use in any Bible-related project.

No changes allowed in the text. To insert in professional work, see the BIBLECHARTS website.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Title and Table of Contents 1-2

Four-Page Lesson (Gentile) 3-7

Blank Page 8

Two-Page Lesson (with Blanks–Gentile) 9-10

Blank Page 11

Four-Page Lesson (Answers for Blanks in Red–Gentile) 12-16

(The Jewish version comes later.)

On the Time of the Trumpets

TOPIC	EXPLANATION	NOTES
On How the Bible was Written	A firm or a product at a store will have a written manual that will probably need to be read once to be understood. The Bible, on the other hand, was not written in such a way. Many scholars would have to study and wrestle with the scriptures order to understand them, and even then, there are questions.	You have to wrestle with the scriptures to prove many doctrines of the Bible, and some truths need to be revealed.
On the Thirds Explained	In everyday conversational language, we would call it the continents being split up, but the Bible routinely employs literary script to prove a point. During the time of the trumpets, the very clear theme of thirds surfaces repeatedly. When bodies from outer space slam into the Earth, hitting only a third of the land or sea, it is indicative of the continents being split up. When the continents are split up, you'll have continents scattered throughout the globe, meaning when something from outer space slams into Earth, only a portion of the land will get hit. This explains the thirds during the trumpets.	Proving that the continents are split up is a big deal only if there is a purpose for it. The trumpets are compared with the time of the bowls when all of the land fragments have come together, which is known as a supercontinent.
On the First Trumpet	The first trumpet introduces the theme of thirds when something slams into Earth, destroying a third of the trees. In the 21st century, this could take up all of Africa and parts of another continent. Obviously, whatever this is, it will be a big one. Would the continents be together and would this item hit the continents section of the Earth broadside, it would easily affect far more than just a third of the trees, but probably something like one-half, two-thirds or maybe three-quarters.	When the continents are split up and unless the destruction can wrap itself around the Earth, it will affect only a portion. The heat could wrap around the Earth, effectively frying all the grass.
On the Second Trumpet	In the example of the second trumpet, a body from outer space slams into one of the oceans, but because the continents are split up, the shock wave gets stopped by the continental coasts, effectively stopping the shock wave. During a supercontinent, because the ocean is together, a large asteroid hitting the ocean would cause a shock wave to roll throughout the entire ocean, not only a third of it.	The second trumpet is the best trumpet to prove that the continents are split up during that time. The remaining trumpets continue the theme of thirds.
On the Third Trumpet	In the third trumpet, something, and most likely not a star as a star in any stage would completely obliterate the entire Earth, slams into the Earth, only affecting the rivers and streams, but again, it only affects a third of the rivers and streams, arguing that the continents are split up.	The call of Israel is to sit in the center of the Earth in order to get the gospel out to the nations for millions of years.
Incidentally, by the fifth trumpet, it appears, according to Revelation 9:4, that the world is full of trees and grass again, indicating a lengthy time since trumpets 1-3.

On the Time of the Bowls

TOPIC	EXPLANATION	NOTES
On the Correspondence of the Trumpets and Bowls	If you line up the seven trumpets along side the seven bowls, you can see that trumpets two, four and six have vivid similarities with the bowls. The trumpets are far more descriptive than the bowls, but since there are so many similarities between numbers two, four and six, it is very possible that from a scientific standpoint, the same type of judgment took place. In the second trumpet, a large body from outer space slams into one of the oceans, causing all life in that ocean to die. In the second bowl, something causes all marine life in the ocean to die. With there being some correspondence between the two, it's possible that a large body from space slams into the ocean in the second bowl.	In the text of the trumpets, the judgments are quite detailed, but no verse directly references the continents being split up. In the bowls, the situation is reversed. There is less on the judgments, but there is a verse that directly pinpoints the supercontinent.
On the Continents during the Bowls	Rather than slamming into only a third of the land or sea, during the time of the bowls, either the entire land or the entire ocean always gets hit by the judgments, helping to prove that all of the sea is together, and all of the land is together. This is another way of saying this is the continents having come together to form a supercontinent. The continents, according to science, move every year just by a small margin, like an inch. The satellites can record these movements down to the millimeter. It takes millions of years for these continents to move long distances. Every 600 million years, the continents form a supercontinent, with the 21st century being 250 million years from the next one.	Furthermore, and more importantly, Revelation 16:20 actually says that the islands will have fled away, meaning the Earth will be without land fragments. "And every island fled away (ESV, Revelation 16:20). . ."
On the Second Bowl	In the second bowl, as in the second trumpet, the ocean gets hit with something. That something that affects the entire ocean is not mentioned, but it is clear that the theme of thirds is gone and it is all of the ocean. It could be that a large asteroid that will slam into the ocean.	During a supercontinent, when a body slams into the ocean, the shock wave would roll throughout the entire ocean.
On Israel's Absence in the Apocalypse	Even though Israel, as the church, is not mentioned directly in the Apocalypse, that does not mean Israel does not exist during that time. The twelve tribes of Israel are mentioned by name in the Apocalypse. Further, in Revelation 14:12, the body of Christ is implied. The body of Christ will have finished the last part to prepare herself to meet the bridegroom somewhere before Revelation 19:7, meaning there will be a central figure in the middle leading the global body of Christ to accurately prepare herself for this wondrous occasion. Israel and the Jews have the call to lead.	While we're on the subject, the ἐκκλησία is also not mentioned directly in the Apocalypse. The lack thereof does not mean the ἐκκλησία is not present because believers are mentioned on numerous occasions.
Israel is to sit in the center of the Earth for many millions of years.

On Israel During a Supercontinent (Psalm 114)

TOPIC	EXPLANATION	NOTES
On the Search for Israel in a Landlocked Position	With the Apocalypse having the Earth hosting a supercontinent, it means that Israel will be sitting in the center of the Earth during the supercontinent. That being the case, we should be able to find an Israel in the Bible that is landlocked without borders of sea. The problem is that the topography of Israel in the Bible, like in Zechariah 14:8 and Deuteronomy 11:24, has the Mediterranean Sea as Israel's western border, meaning that is not in the context of the supercontinent. Israel not being mentioned in the Apocalypse means you have to go somewhere else for that proof text. Two days after a major surgery, I asked the Lord for a verse of encouragement, flipping to the Psalter thinking that I would get my encouragement there. I flip to the Psalter and there right in front of me is Psalm 114.	Zechariah 14 would not take place after the upcoming supercontinent because the passage is about Israel getting control of the globe, meaning this event would most certainly be on this side of time. The continents are split up in Zechariah 14 because the Mediterranean Sea is to Israel's west.
On Psalm 114	Psalm 114 starts out in the context of Israel coming out of Egypt. Then the sea and the mountains get removed from the scene. Israel, sitting in the center of the Earth during a supercontinent, would be landlocked, meaning Israel's borders would be land, not sea. The proof text, Revelation 16:20, has the mountains on Earth be removed from the Earth, and Psalm 114 has the mountains and hills removed from Israel, lining up the two scriptures regarding Israel sitting in the Earth during a supercontinent.	Thus far, I've only found one passage, actually a full chapter, on Israel sitting in the center of the Earth during a supercontinent. I'd like to find more.
On the Timing of Prophetic Verses	The messiah, according to Micah 5:2, would be born in Bethlehem, and in the same verse Jesus' rulership in Israel was mentioned. However, there would be at least a 2000 year gap between the two events. Seeing a large gap in time, even in the same verse, is a common occurrence in the Bible. In Psalm 114, where Israel is mentioned coming out of Egypt very easily can be in a different time from the time when the sea, mountains and hills get removed from Israel during the supercontinent.	Isaiah 9:6 and Micah 5:2 are two verses that bring up the birth of the messiah and His ministry as ruler. Timing between the two events is up to God. Different events for different times.
On Israel's Topography in the Near Future	With the continents being split up and still quite near the original time of the Bible, the Mediterranean Sea remains Israel's western border. The Mediterranean Sea will get destroyed by Africa moving north well before the upcoming supercontinent forms. The Sinai Peninsula, also known as the tongue of the Egyptian Sea, according to Isaiah 11:15, will get destroyed. Africa moving north, pushing against Europe would do as such.	Typically, the near future does not reference millions of years into the future, but in this case, with the distant future being 250 million years, 20-30 million years can be the near future.

Without my vision of life on Earth millions of years from now, there would have been no reason to study it. Israel is to sit in the center of the Earth for millions of years.

On the Longevity of Israel

TOPIC	EXPLANATION	NOTES
On the Nature of Man & Religion	The time and place of your birth, to a large extent, will determine your thought patterns, culture and religion. There are those who convert, but the religion of your birth, for most, will be your lifelong religion. So basically, you are gambling that you were born into the right religion. It was God who designed the system, but at the same time from the beginning, He was going to set a nation in the center of the Earth as His ambassador, and that nation is forming right now. And the name is Israel!	The call of Israel is to be a light to the nations for many millions of years. Isaiah 49:6, 51:4 and Acts 13:47 have the gospel of Jesus Christ and the Torah going out to the nations from Israel.
On the Need of a Central Figure	The need for a central figure addresses both the saved and the unsaved. Since God has chosen to be invisible, it begs the question with regards to the visible world, who is in charge? 4000 religions all cry that they are the way to God. Even in Christianity, now comprised of 45,000 different denominations, all secretly or overtly claim to be the closest to God. So which one is it, and what proof do they have? And God remains invisible and silent. That central figure is forming right now! And the name is Israel! Israel will eventually lead by force, proving which God and which religion is from God.	Each religion can tout their distinctive features, but no one can beat leading by force. Salvation will not be forced onto the nations, but certain Jewish customs will be forced across the globe. I come out of Protestant Christianity.
On Israel's Role	The ideal situation is where Israel is fully developed and leading from the center of the Earth. Fully developed means the entire nation of Israel is saved and Torah Observant, with the additional responsibility to lead the nations in teaching Jewish customs. Leading means Israel has control of the ἐκκλησία and the globe. Having control of the globe does not mean that salvation in Christ will be forced. One of God's thrills is saving people, meaning He wants to save people for a very long time.	It may be thousands of years before Israel get control of the globe. What is in front of us for the time being is more of Ezekiel 36. You can watch this with 100% accuracy.
On Israel's Existence into Perpetuity	Israel, according to Jeremiah 31:35-36, will be unable to be toppled, meaning Israel will survive from now until the end of the world. With the Apocalypse having the Earth hosting a supercontinent, we can know that Israel will be sitting the center of the Earth for many millions of years. Science has it figured out that it will take around 250 million years before the next supercontinent forms.	Jerusalem, according to Isaiah 33:20 and Joel 3:20, will exist into perpetuity. Jerusalem in Revelation 21 bolsters this argument.

The call of Israel is to sit in the center of the Earth as a light for the salvation of Jesus Christ to the nations for millions of years. Salvation is only found in Jesus Christ.

Questions on the Longevity of Israel

1. Where in the Bible is the main text regarding the longevity of Israel? (Jer 31:35-36)	21. What OT chapter has Israel sitting in the center of the Earth for millions of years? ^{5b}
2. Why is the Apocalypse so important when it comes to the longevity of Israel?	22. Will the longevity of Israel be a miracle in itself?
3. How many passages back up the longevity of Israel?	23. Once Israel has had millions of years of history, will those people think it strange?
4. Why is the longevity of Israel so important?	24. Once millions of years have transpired, why would those people not think it strange?
5. How does the longevity of Israel play into prophecy?	25. What is the main reason people think it is the end of the world? ^{5c}
6. Which one is clearer regarding the role of Israel, the OT or the NT?	26. Does the Bible have modern Israel with the Mediterranean Sea as its western border?
7. What is Israel's call and role in the world? (Isa 49:6; 51:4; Acts 13:47)	27. Does the Bible have Israel with land as its western border? (Psalm 114)
8. Will Israel be the central figure in the ἐκκλησία from here on out?	28. What type of topography would Israel be surrounded by during a supercontinent?
9. How can we know the continents will be split up during the time of the trumpets?	29. Is Israel mentioned in the Apocalypse?
10. Roughly how long could it take for the trumpets to take place?	30. What kind of argument is it regarding Israel's express absence in the Apocalypse?
11. How can we know there will be a supercontinent during the time of the bowls? ^{5a}	31. Did God purposely write the Bible as to make man wrestle with the scriptures?
12. What is Megiddo called in Revelation 16:16?	32. Should the longevity of Israel add to the credibility of Israel's message and role?
13. What is the geology behind Mt Megiddo forming?	33. Is the longevity of Israel a good thing or a bad thing for life on Earth?
14. Could we give a rough estimate as to how many Gentile nations will form? (Deut 32:8)	34. Has the Lord delayed His return? (Matt 24:48)
15. How many Israeli nations will form?	35. Did the Lord give a hint regarding His delayed return? (Matt 24:48)
16. Does the Bible expressly state that the continents move as science so says? (Rev 6:14)	36. Which return was He referring to regarding Matthew 24:48?
17. Could the Israel of God form overnight?	37. Do you think the Lord's appearance in Zechariah 14 is a celestial appearance?
18. How can we prove that the mountains in Revelation 17:9 are going to form?	38. Which appearance/return of the Lord do you think is next?
19. How could it be man's doing that the time in front of us will be so long?	39. What are some obstacles to the incoming era? Which Messianics should you follow?
20. Since Israel will be the leader, what will Israel lead?	40. How should you interpret Matthew 5:17-19 in the 21st century?

^{5a} Rev 16:20 ^{5b} Psalm 114; Isaiah 24 ^{5c} I Peter 4:7; Hebrews 9:26; I Peter 1:20; I Corinthians 10:11; Mark 13:7

On the Longevity of Israel (1)

TOPIC	EXPLANATION	NOTES
On the Thirds Explained	In everyday conversational language, we would call it the continents being split up, but the Bible routinely employs literary script to prove a point. During the time of the trumpets, the very clear theme of _____ surfaces repeatedly. When bodies from outer space slam into the Earth, hitting only a third of the land or sea, it is indicative of the continents being split up. When the continents are split up, you'll have continents scattered throughout the globe, meaning when something from outer space slams into Earth, only a portion of the land will get hit. This explains the thirds during the trumpets.	Proving that the continents are split up is a big deal only if there is a purpose for it. The trumpets are compared with the time of the bowls when all of the land fragments have come together, which is known as a supercontinent.
On the First Trumpet	The first trumpet introduces the theme of thirds when something slams into Earth, destroying a _____ of the trees. In the 21st century, this could take up all of Africa and parts of another continent. Obviously, whatever this is, it will be a big one. Would the continents be together and would this item hit the continents section of the Earth broadside, it would easily affect far more than just a third of the trees, but probably something like one-half, two-thirds or maybe three-quarters.	When the continents are split up and unless the destruction can wrap itself around the Earth, it will affect only a portion. The heat could wrap around the Earth, effectively frying all the grass.
On the Second Trumpet	In the example of the second trumpet, a body from outer space slams into one of the oceans, but because the continents are split up, the shock wave gets stopped by the continental coasts, effectively stopping the _____ wave. During a supercontinent, because the ocean is together, a large asteroid hitting the ocean would cause a shock wave to roll throughout the entire ocean, not only a third of it.	The second trumpet is the best trumpet to prove that the continents are split up during that time. The remaining trumpets continue the theme of thirds.
On the Third Trumpet	In the third trumpet, something, and most likely not a star as a star in any stage would completely _____ the entire Earth, slams into the Earth, only affecting the rivers and streams, but again, it only affects a third of the rivers and streams, arguing that the continents are split up.	The call of Israel is to sit in the center of the Earth in order to get the gospel out to the nations for millions of years.
On Israel's Role	The ideal situation is where Israel is fully _____ and leading from the center of the Earth. Fully developed means the entire nation of Israel is saved and Torah Observant, with the additional responsibility to lead the nations in teaching Jewish customs. Leading means Israel has control of the ἐκκλησία and the globe. Having control of the globe does not mean that salvation in Christ will be forced. One of God's thrills is saving people, meaning He wants to save people for a very long time.	It may be thousands of years before Israel get control of the globe. What is in front of us for the time being is more of Ezekiel 36. You can watch this with 100% accuracy.

Incidentally, by the fifth trumpet, it appears, according to Revelation 9:4, that the world is full of trees and grass again, indicating a lengthy time since trumpets 1-3.

On the Longevity of Israel (2)

TOPIC	EXPLANATION	NOTES
On the Continents during the Bowls	Rather than slamming into only a third of the land or sea, during the time of the bowls, either the entire land or the entire ocean always gets hit by the judgments, helping to prove that all of the sea is _____, and all of the land is together. This is another way of saying this is the continents having come together to form a supercontinent. The continents, according to science, move every year just by a small margin, like an inch. The satellites can record these movements down to the millimeter. It takes millions of years for these continents to move long distances. Every 600 million years, the continents form a supercontinent, with the 21st century being 250 million years from the next one.	Furthermore, and more importantly, Revelation 16:20 actually says that the islands will have fled away, meaning the Earth will be without land fragments. "And every island fled away (ESV, Revelation 16:20). . ."
On the Second Bowl	In the second bowl, as in the second trumpet, the ocean gets hit with something. That something that affects the entire ocean is not mentioned, but it is clear that the theme of _____ is gone and it is all of the ocean. It could be that a large asteroid that will slam into the ocean.	During a supercontinent, when a body slams into the ocean, the shock wave would roll throughout the entire ocean.
On Psalm 114	Psalms 114 starts out in the context of Israel coming out of Egypt. Then the ____ and the mountains get removed from the scene. Israel, sitting in the center of the Earth during a supercontinent, would be landlocked, meaning Israel's borders would be land, not sea. The proof text, Revelation 16:20, has the mountains on Earth be removed from the Earth, and Psalm 114 has the mountains and hills removed from Israel, lining up the two scriptures regarding Israel sitting in the Earth during a supercontinent.	Thus far, I've only found one passage, actually a full chapter, on Israel sitting in the center of the Earth during a supercontinent. I'd like to find more.
On the Timing of Prophetic Verses	The _____, according to Micah 5:2, would be born in Bethlehem, and in the same verse Jesus' rulership in Israel was mentioned. However, there would be at least a 2000 year gap between the two events. Seeing a large gap in time, even in the same verse, is a common occurrence in the Bible. In Psalm 114, where Israel is mentioned coming out of Egypt very easily can be in a different time from the time when the sea, mountains and hills get removed from Israel during the supercontinent.	Isaiah 9:6 and Micah 5:2 are two verses that bring up the birth of the messiah and His ministry as ruler. Timing between the two events is up to God. Different events for different times.
On Israel's Existence into Perpetuity	Israel, according to Jeremiah 31:35-36, will be unable to be toppled, meaning Israel will survive from now until the end of the world. With the Apocalypse having the Earth hosting a supercontinent, we can know that Israel will be sitting the center of the Earth for many _____ of years. Science has it figured out that it will take around 250 million years before the next supercontinent forms.	Jerusalem, according to Isaiah 33:20 and Joel 3:20, will exist into perpetuity. Jerusalem in Revelation 21 bolsters this argument.
Israel is to sit in the center of the Earth for many millions of years.

On the Time of the Trumpets

TOPIC	EXPLANATION	NOTES
On How the Bible was Written	A firm or a product at a store will have a written manual that will probably need to be read once to be understood. The Bible, on the other hand, was not written in such a way. Many scholars would have to study and wrestle with the scriptures order to understand them, and even then, there are questions.	You have to wrestle with the scriptures to prove many doctrines of the Bible, and some truths need to be revealed.
On the Thirds Explained	In everyday conversational language, we would call it the continents being split up, but the Bible routinely employs literary script to prove a point. During the time of the trumpets, the very clear theme of thirds surfaces repeatedly. When bodies from outer space slam into the Earth, hitting only a third of the land or sea, it is indicative of the continents being split up. When the continents are split up, you'll have continents scattered throughout the globe, meaning when something from outer space slams into Earth, only a portion of the land will get hit. This explains the thirds during the trumpets.	Proving that the continents are split up is a big deal only if there is a purpose for it. The trumpets are compared with the time of the bowls when all of the land fragments have come together, which is known as a supercontinent.
On the First Trumpet	The first trumpet introduces the theme of thirds when something slams into Earth, destroying a third of the trees. In the 21st century, this could take up all of Africa and parts of another continent. Obviously, whatever this is, it will be a big one. Would the continents be together and would this item hit the continents section of the Earth broadside, it would easily affect far more than just a third of the trees, but probably something like one-half, two-thirds or maybe three-quarters.	When the continents are split up and unless the destruction can wrap itself around the Earth, it will affect only a portion. The heat could wrap around the Earth, effectively frying all the grass.
On the Second Trumpet	In the example of the second trumpet, a body from outer space slams into one of the oceans, but because the continents are split up, the shock wave gets stopped by the continental coasts, effectively stopping the shock wave. During a supercontinent, because the ocean is together, a large asteroid hitting the ocean would cause a shock wave to roll throughout the entire ocean, not only a third of it.	The second trumpet is the best trumpet to prove that the continents are split up during that time. The remaining trumpets continue the theme of thirds.
On the Third Trumpet	In the third trumpet, something, and most likely not a star as a star in any stage would completely obliterate the entire Earth, slams into the Earth, only affecting the rivers and streams, but again, it only affects a third of the rivers and streams, arguing that the continents are split up.	The call of Israel is to sit in the center of the Earth in order to get the gospel out to the nations for millions of years.

Incidentally, by the fifth trumpet, it appears, according to Revelation 9:4, that the world is full of trees and grass again, indicating a lengthy time since trumpets 1-3.

On the Time of the Bowls

TOPIC	EXPLANATION	NOTES
On the Correspondence of the Trumpets and Bowls	If you line up the seven trumpets along side the seven bowls, you can see that trumpets two, four and six have vivid similarities with the bowls. The trumpets are far more descriptive than the bowls, but since there are so many similarities between numbers two, four and six, it is very possible that from a scientific standpoint, the same type of judgment took place. In the second trumpet, a large body from outer space slams into one of the oceans, causing all life in that ocean to die. In the second bowl, something causes all marine life in the ocean to die. With there being some correspondence between the two, it's possible that a large body from space slams into the ocean in the second bowl.	In the text of the trumpets, the judgments are quite detailed, but no verse directly references the continents being split up. In the bowls, the situation is reversed. There is less on the judgments, but there is a verse that directly pinpoints the supercontinent.
On the Continents during the Bowls	Rather than slamming into only a third of the land or sea, during the time of the bowls, either the entire land or the entire ocean always gets hit by the judgments, helping to prove that all of the sea is together , and all of the land is together. This is another way of saying this is the continents having come together to form a supercontinent. The continents, according to science, move every year just by a small margin, like an inch. The satellites can record these movements down to the millimeter. It takes millions of years for these continents to move long distances. Every 600 million years, the continents form a supercontinent, with the 21st century being 250 million years from the next one.	Furthermore, and more importantly, Revelation 16:20 actually says that the islands will have fled away, meaning the Earth will be without land fragments. "And every island fled away (ESV, Revelation 16:20). . ."
On the Second Bowl	In the second bowl, as in the second trumpet, the ocean gets hit with something. That something that affects the entire ocean is not mentioned, but it is clear that the theme of thirds is gone and it is all of the ocean. It could be that a large asteroid that will slam into the ocean.	During a supercontinent, when a body slams into the ocean, the shock wave would roll throughout the entire ocean.
On Israel's Absence in the Apocalypse	Even though Israel, as the church, is not mentioned directly in the Apocalypse, that does not mean Israel does not exist during that time. The twelve tribes of Israel are mentioned by name in the Apocalypse. Further, in Revelation 14:12, the body of Christ is implied. The body of Christ will have finished the last part to prepare herself to meet the bridegroom somewhere before Revelation 19:7, meaning there will be a central figure in the middle leading the global body of Christ to accurately prepare herself for this wondrous occasion. Israel and the Jews have the call to lead.	While we're on the subject, the ἐκκλησία is also not mentioned directly in the Apocalypse. The lack thereof does not mean the ἐκκλησία is not present because believers are mentioned on numerous occasions.

Israel is to sit in the center of the Earth for many millions of years.

On Israel During a Supercontinent (Psalm 114)

TOPIC	EXPLANATION	NOTES
On the Search for Israel in a Land-locked Position	With the Apocalypse having the Earth hosting a supercontinent, it means that Israel will be sitting in the center of the Earth during the supercontinent. That being the case, we should be able to find an Israel in the Bible that is landlocked without borders of sea. The problem is that the topography of Israel in the Bible, like in Zechariah 14:8 and Deuteronomy 11:24, has the Mediterranean Sea as Israel's western border, meaning that is not in the context of the supercontinent. Israel not being mentioned in the Apocalypse means you have to go somewhere else for that proof text. Two days after a major surgery, I asked the Lord for a verse of encouragement, flipping to the Psalter thinking that I would get my encouragement there. I flip to the Psalter and there right in front of me is Psalm 114.	Zechariah 14 would not take place after the upcoming supercontinent because the passage is about Israel getting control of the globe, meaning this event would most certainly be on this side of time. The continents are split up in Zechariah 14 because the Mediterranean Sea is to Israel's west.
On Psalm 114	Psalm 114 starts out in the context of Israel coming out of Egypt. Then the sea and the mountains get removed from the scene. Israel, sitting in the center of the Earth during a supercontinent, would be landlocked, meaning Israel's borders would be land, not sea. The proof text, Revelation 16:20, has the mountains on Earth be removed from the Earth, and Psalm 114 has the mountains and hills removed from Israel, lining up the two scriptures regarding Israel sitting in the Earth during a supercontinent.	Thus far, I've only found one passage, actually a full chapter, on Israel sitting in the center of the Earth during a supercontinent. I'd like to find more.
On the Timing of Prophetic Verses	The messiah , according to Micah 5:2, would be born in Bethlehem, and in the same verse Jesus' rulership in Israel was mentioned. However, there would be at least a 2000 year gap between the two events. Seeing a large gap in time, even in the same verse, is a common occurrence in the Bible. In Psalm 114, where Israel is mentioned coming out of Egypt very easily can be in a different time from the time when the sea, mountains and hills get removed from Israel during the supercontinent.	Isaiah 9:6 and Micah 5:2 are two verses that bring up the birth of the messiah and His ministry as ruler. Timing between the two events is up to God. Different events for different times.
On Israel's Topography in the Near Future	With the continents being split up and still quite near the original time of the Bible, the Mediterranean Sea remains Israel's western border. The Mediterranean Sea will get destroyed by Africa moving north well before the upcoming supercontinent forms. The Sinai Peninsula, also known as the tongue of the Egyptian Sea, according to Isaiah 11:15, will get destroyed. Africa moving north, pushing against Europe would do as such.	Typically, the near future does not reference millions of years into the future, but in this case, with the distant future being 250 million years, 20-30 million years can be the near future.

Without my vision of life on Earth millions of years from now, there would have been no reason to study it. Israel is to sit in the center of the Earth for millions of years.

On the Longevity of Israel

TOPIC	EXPLANATION	NOTES
On the Nature of Man & Religion	The time and place of your birth, to a large extent, will determine your thought patterns, culture and religion. There are those who convert, but the religion of your birth, for most, will be your lifelong religion. So basically, you are gambling that you were born into the right religion. It was God who designed the system, but at the same time from the beginning, He was going to set a nation in the center of the Earth as His ambassador, and that nation is forming right now. And the name is Israel!	The call of Israel is to be a light to the nations for many millions of years. Isaiah 49:6, 51:4 and Acts 13:47 have the gospel of Jesus Christ and the Torah going out to the nations from Israel.
On the Need of a Central Figure	The need for a central figure addresses both the saved and the unsaved. Since God has chosen to be invisible, it begs the question with regards to the visible world, who is in charge? 4000 religions all cry that they are the way to God. Even in Christianity, now comprised of 45,000 different denominations, all secretly or overtly claim to be the closest to God. So which one is it, and what proof do they have? And God remains invisible and silent. That central figure is forming right now! And the name is Israel! Israel will eventually lead by force, proving which God and which religion is from God.	Each religion can tout their distinctive features, but no one can beat leading by force. Salvation will not be forced onto the nations, but certain Jewish customs will be forced across the globe. I come out of Protestant Christianity.
On Israel's Role	The ideal situation is where Israel is fully developed and leading from the center of the Earth. Fully developed means the entire nation of Israel is saved and Torah Observant, with the additional responsibility to lead the nations in teaching Jewish customs. Leading means Israel has control of the ἐκκλησία and the globe. Having control of the globe does not mean that salvation in Christ will be forced. One of God's thrills is saving people, meaning He wants to save people for a very long time.	It may be thousands of years before Israel get control of the globe. What is in front of us for the time being is more of Ezekiel 36. You can watch this with 100% accuracy.
On Israel's Existence into Perpetuity	Israel, according to Jeremiah 31:35-36, will be unable to be toppled, meaning Israel will survive from now until the end of the world. With the Apocalypse having the Earth hosting a supercontinent, we can know that Israel will be sitting the center of the Earth for many millions of years. Science has it figured out that it will take around 250 million years before the next supercontinent forms.	Jerusalem, according to Isaiah 33:20 and Joel 3:20, will exist into perpetuity. Jerusalem in Revelation 21 bolsters this argument.

The call of Israel is to sit in the center of the Earth as a light for the salvation of Jesus Christ to the nations for millions of years. Salvation is only found in Jesus Christ.

Questions on the Longevity of Israel

1. Where in the Bible is the main text regarding the longevity of Israel? (Jer 31:35-36)	21. What OT chapter has Israel sitting in the center of the Earth for millions of years? ^{5b}
2. Why is the Apocalypse so important when it comes to the longevity of Israel?	22. Will the longevity of Israel be a miracle in itself?
3. How many passages back up the longevity of Israel?	23. Once Israel has had millions of years of history, will those people think it strange?
4. Why is the longevity of Israel so important?	24. Once millions of years have transpired, why would those people not think it strange?
5. How does the longevity of Israel play into prophecy?	25. What is the main reason people think it is the end of the world? ^{5c}
6. Which one is clearer regarding the role of Israel, the OT or the NT?	26. Does the Bible have modern Israel with the Mediterranean Sea as its western border?
7. What is Israel's call and role in the world? (Isa 49:6; 51:4; Acts 13:47)	27. Does the Bible have Israel with land as its western border? (Psalm 114)
8. Will Israel be the central figure in the ἐκκλησία from here on out?	28. What type of topography would Israel be surrounded by during a supercontinent?
9. How can we know the continents will be split up during the time of the trumpets?	29. Is Israel mentioned in the Apocalypse?
10. Roughly how long could it take for the trumpets to take place?	30. What kind of argument is it regarding Israel's express absence in the Apocalypse?
11. How can we know there will be a supercontinent during the time of the bowls? ^{5a}	31. Did God purposely write the Bible as to make man wrestle with the scriptures?
12. What is Megiddo called in Revelation 16:16?	32. Should the longevity of Israel add to the credibility of Israel's message and role?
13. What is the geology behind Mt Megiddo forming?	33. Is the longevity of Israel a good thing or a bad thing for life on Earth?
14. Could we give a rough estimate as to how many Gentile nations will form? (Deut 32:8)	34. Has the Lord delayed His return? (Matt 24:48)
15. How many Israeli nations will form?	35. Did the Lord give a hint regarding His delayed return? (Matt 24:48)
16. Does the Bible expressly state that the continents move as science so says? (Rev 6:14)	36. Which return was He referring to regarding Matthew 24:48?
17. Could the Israel of God form overnight?	37. Do you think the Lord's appearance in Zechariah 14 is a celestial appearance?
18. How can we prove that the mountains in Revelation 17:9 are going to form?	38. Which appearance/return of the Lord do you think is next?
19. How could it be man's doing that the time in front of us will be so long?	39. What are some obstacles to the incoming era? Which Messianics should you follow?
20. Since Israel will be the leader, what will Israel lead?	40. How should you interpret Matthew 5:17-19 in the 21st century?